

Guitar Sketches – Presented by Aloysius Leeson
The Space Between, first floor, 187 Rundle Street
25-27 February

As the name suggests, home-grown Adelaide guitar talent Aloysius Leeson takes the audience for a musical tour of the places that have inspired his art. His delicate and skillful pluckings visit South America, the United States and provincial villages of Russia before returning home again with his own magnificent compositions. The sheer variety of music – ranging from flamenco to funk – and Aloysius's passion for each style, coupled with his finessed yet respectful playing, make for an evening of music that is as educational as it is immensely enjoyable.

Review by George Inglis, 5aa.